The lid shows two children happily picking wildflowers.
The sky blue base is enhanced with a raised floral detail.

Made of the finest bisque porcelain, each music box is cast from molds made from the original work of art. And each has been lovingly hand-painted, so that each looks like an original masterpiece.

America

The grandeur of her land, the spirit of her people, seen through the eyes of master painter Don Sheffler and perfectly reproduced on the

NEW American Portraits Plate Collection

Don Sheffler's love for these United States has never been more apparent than in the masterpieces he has painted exclusively for Avon. Each is an exuberant vision of the birth of a nation and an expression of admiration for the people who make our country great.

The courage, energy and dauntless spirit that typify the American personality are evident in each human portrayal. The natural beauties of our land—majestic mountains, rolling rivers, rugged seacoasts, lush plains—have been captured in all their glory.

And now these incomparable works are being made available to you on Avon's American Portraits Plate Collection.

Recreated on Porcelain

Cast in superb quality porcelain, the plates have been individually crafted by expert hands to make certain that each piece of art is reproduced with total fidelity.

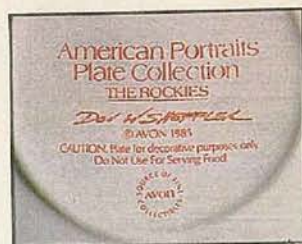

Descriptive inserts by Don Sheffler

The plates come with individual inserts, written by Don Sheffler, which describe in detail the landscape and history of the part of the United States being featured. As you read each piece, you will come to know Don as a person as well as an artist. And that will make each plate an even more precious and personal possession.

Signed by the artist

Don Sheffler's signature appears on the back of each plate, along with the Avon Collectibles logo.

You may display them on a shelf or mantel, or on a wall with the hanging element that is included. Each plate is approx. 4 1/4" in diameter. They are for decorative purposes only. The American Portraits Plates will be a joy for you, your family and friends to behold...and a cherished heirloom for future generations.

A. The East

From the coast of Maine to the Chesapeake Bay, the Eastern Seaboard is honeycombed with coves, inlets and vast deep-water ports. This porcelain portrait honors the hardy sailors who have struggled to wrest a livelihood from the Atlantic.

B. The South

From the Blue Ridge Mountains to the Mississippi Delta, from gracious cities to rural villages, the South is a land where modern advancements exist in harmony with old traditions. This porcelain portrait recaptures an era when paddle wheelers churned in the rivers of the South.

C. The Midwest

In the mid-1880's, farmers came to stay in this land of harsh winters and hot summers. Today, "America's Heartland" is also "America's Breadbasket." This porcelain portrait pays tribute to the richest, most productive farmland in the world.

D. The Southwest

The land of natural contrasts—canyons, deserts, mountains—where contrasted people came together to build a unique culture. This porcelain portrait pays homage to the early pioneers of different cultural backgrounds who settled and built the great Southwest together.

E. The West

Beyond the Continental Divide lies an endlessly diverse panorama. The mighty Sierras, the Great Salt Lake, the towering Redwoods... each a spectacle created by nature to give the West some of the most beautiful landscapes in America.

F. The Rockies

Towering symbol of the pioneers who went west in search of new homes, new lives, new opportunities. This porcelain portrait captures the vigor, the spirit and the breathtaking beauty of the "gateway to the West," the majestic Rocky Mountains.

A lovely remembrance of things past...

Avon Victorian Collector Doll

Hand-painted and handcrafted in the finest porcelain, she was inspired by the illustrations of beloved Victorian children's book artist, Kate Greenaway.

The illustrations of Kate Greenaway have always been admired for their angelic expressions, their lifelike vibrancy. In fact, dollmakers have found their inspiration in her art for over a century.

The first "Kate Greenaway Dolls"

The young Miss Greenaway expressed her budding artistic talents by making costumes for her own doll collection. And even when she became a successful illustrator, she continued making costumes for the live models who posed for her book illustrations.

As it happened, Victorian dollmakers were so taken by her picturebook characters, that they began to create dolls fashioned after them. Thus, the "Kate Greenaway Doll" came into being.

From Avon: An authentic Kate Greenaway interpretation

So enchanting were these "Kate Greenaway Dolls," that Avon determined to make its Victorian Collector Doll precisely in that image. And she is exquisite. An interpretation authentic in every detail, from her beribboned bonnet to her pretty pantaloons.

Her head, arms and legs are delicately cast in fine porcelain. And every lovely feature, every darling accent, has been meticulously painted by hand. Examine the subtle nuances of color and the gentle waves in her hair, the fragile blush on her cheeks. Only an artist who is a doll lover's heart could have painted her with such a fine hand.

Her outfit is a splendid example of the costumer's craft. Made of dotted swiss fabric, it has rows of ruffling at the sleeves, collar and hem. Note also the finishing touches of a demure bow at the throat and a bow-tied waist sash, both of pale blue satin ribbon.

An heirloom of the future

This doll will be a focal point among your most cherished collectibles. And, like her ancestors, she will go on to be a prized heirloom for generations to come.

Approximately 8" high, she bears the Avon Collectibles logo.

A Mother's Touch

The security and serenity children feel in the sanctuary of a mother's arms is tenderly expressed in Avon's

A Mother's Touch Porcelain Figurine

A lovely reflection of the joys of family togetherness, this lifelike figurine depicts a mother reading a bedtime story to her children. Her daughter listens with fascinated attention while her son drifts sweetly off to dreamland. It is a touching scene, marvelously lifelike and utterly endearing.

The original sculpture was created for Avon by one of our most perceptive artists. An artist who truly understands and appreciates the unique bond between mother and child.

Individually hand-painted

Each figurine is perfectly modeled in pure porcelain and painted entirely by hand to be sure that every facial feature, every nuance of expression, every fine detail, is as realistic as possible.

An artwork of rare quality and beauty, this incomparable, three-dimensional portrait will be a constant source of pleasure for anyone fortunate enough to possess it. Undoubtedly, it will be passed on with love from generation to generation.
